

Shadowbox

Paris 1832. Fleeing a murder he cannot forget, Louis Beaugard drowns the memory with debauchery and revels - a life of excess that threatens to alienate his friends and cast him adrift in a city famous for glittering seductions and violent Revolution. Mad, bad and dangerous to know, his trail attracts others who seek his fortune. But one of these men holds a deeper desire: to avenge the death of his father. Amongst the artisans of Montmartre and the tombs of Notre Dame, he will hunt Louis down and bring him to justice. Of any sort. Both haunted by the death of the same man. Each striving to find meaning in the midst of their grief. And beneath it all, the Sacred Kingship of Old Europe, a destiny that drives men to destroy their rivals - or their dreams. SHADOWBOX: a spellbinding tale of grief and redemption by the author of THE LAST RHINEMAIDEN.
